NATIONAL ECCLESIASTICAL PARALEGAL SERVICES

“Your Ecclesiastical Paralegal Support Center!”

“What do the word say about this?”

Paul, the Scholar and Philosopher-Paul studied under one of the most brilliant men of all time. His name was Gamaliel. Paul said of himself that he was “a Jew, born in Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought up in this city, educated at the feet of Gamaliel according to the strict manner of the law of our fathers, being zealous for God as all of you are this day” (Acts 7:3). Paul continued in his writings to the church at Philippi saying “If anyone else thinks he has reason for confidence in the flesh, I have more: circumcised on the eighth day, of the people of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews; as to the law, a Pharisee; as to zeal, a persecutor of the church; as to righteousness under the law, blameless” (Phil 3:4b-6). Paul, according to early church historians and biblical scholars, may have been the greatest mind of his time. Few could out-whit him, out-debate him and exceed his knowledge of the law and of the Scriptures. If education was bad, then why did God use Paul as one of the greatest of all apologists and Bible (Old Testament) scholars, specifically when he reasoned with the Greeks from their own poets on Mar’s Hill (Acts 7:22-34)? Wouldn’t you have loved to hear that message? Ecclesiastical law is being lost today.

What is Ecclesiastical law?

Ecclesiastical Law is the body of law derived from canon and civil law and is administered by the ecclesiastical courts of a local church. Ecclesiastical law governs the doctrine of a specific church or order, Ecclesiastical law is also termed as jus ecclesiasticum or law spiritual and the facts are.;

1. The rules governing its structure and operations are found in the Code of Canon Law and other documents. The most civil law treats these in a fashion similar to the analogous documents or principles of any other denomination.
2. Ecclesiastical law applies to all churches,
